SHE WOULD MARRY ROCKEFELLER, JR.

California Girl Sends Proposal to the Oil Millionaire.

LETTER SENT TO THE PRESS

Jeanette Doesn't Care What the Preachers and Papers Say, About His Money. She Is Willing to Buy a Bungalow and Many Swell Clothes With It.

Of course if John D. Jr., weren't married—
And if he felt the call of the far west—
And if he was heart whole as well as in hearty accord with long year traditions—

He might accept the proposal of marriage which has just come from Herula Jeanette Thress of Oakland, Cal. Mrs. Thress coyly fails to mention that if John D. Jr., decided to marry her it would be her second matrimonial plunge. Hubby No. 1 was a brick manufacturer, according to word from Oakland.

So that the letter would surely get to the attention of Mr. Rockefeller Mrs. Thress sent it to the New York newspapers. Here it is:

To Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Somewhere in New York:
Dear Mr. Rockefeller—This 23rd day of February, 1916, I am writing my first proposal of marriage. Consider my inexperience, please. This is absolutely the first time I ever proposed marriage. I am unknown to you, but I am perfectly willing to be made the happiest of women by you.

Simply the interest on a paltry little million (and what I ask is such a small sum to you) would build and maintain for me the perfectly dear bungalow I have planned, not to mention the lovely gowns and sweet hats I could buy. I long with a great longing for pretty things.

I know preachers and papers have scornfully alluded to your money as "tainted money," but "we should worry" if it is "tainted."

You have heard, haven't you, of a man being "loved" for the enemies he has made? Well, I love you, dear, for the money you have made.

Went you come out to sunny California and make our dreams come true? I haven't described myself to you and will spare you, but say only bluish for me. Sweetly and fondly yours,

HERULA JEANETTE THRESS,
1730 Brush, at Eighteenth Street,
Oakland, Cal., Feb. 23, 1916.

"No such letter has reached Mr. Rockefeller, and if one does come it will go right in the wastebasket," said Irvy Lee, publicity director for the Standard Oil company.

FRENCH PRAISE NURSES.

Four Women Mentioned in Honors For Bravery Under Fire.

Four nurses were cited in French army general orders for exceptional devotion to duty the other day.

A 15½ inch shell burst within thirty feet of Mme. Juliette Perdon while she was caring for the wounded at Villers during its bombardment. She continued waiting upon the sick and wounded and declined to leave the hospital until every person had been taken out safely.

Mme. De Sain Martin also remained at Senlis during the occupation by the Germans. She nursed the German wounded and went through the streets of Senlis in peril of her life to obtain the aid of a German military surgeon.

Mother Carpenter, head of the convent at Senlis, remained there during the occupation and was able by her courageous attitude to protect all those under her authority.

Octavie Malabre, who is also a nun, remained in Senlis during the occupation. She engaged in service among the hospital patients afflicted with contagious disease. She has worked every day without having a single day's rest.

RETIRE THREE BATTLESHIPS.

The Alabama, Ohio and Georgia May Be Used by Reserves.

The battleships Alabama, Ohio and Georgia are to be stricken from the navy roster as real fighting units and probably will end their days as training ships for the naval reserve. This was the assertion made by several officers of the Philadelphia navy yard.

One of the officers asserted that the battleships, "despite their excellent condition, are obsolete and serve no purpose other than to retard the progress and impair the efficiency of first line ships."

The Alabama, flagship of the reserve fleet, and the Ohio are at the Philadelphia navy yard. The Georgia is now on her way to join the reserve fleet.

The Alabama was laid down twenty years ago and is a 12,000 ton ship. The Ohio and Georgia, built a few years later, are virtually the same size and carry similar armaments.

Dear Santa Tobacco.

At the state game preserve at Madi son, Conn., there is a deer which is fond of tobacco and eats pieces of it with great relish. There is also a deer which was captured when he joined a herd of homeward bound swans and walked into their farm with them.

Banquet in a Sewer.

More than a hundred persons, including Mayor Kiel, celebrated the opening of St. Louis' new sewer by attending a $25 a plate banquet given in the sewer a hundred feet below the surface of the street.

HARD LUCK INDEED

"My, what a grumpy face!"
"Huh? You'd be grumpy, too, if your name was Patsy Sarsfield McGinnis and yet had to go to school on the seventeenth of March."

DRY STATE LACKS CONVICTS.

Prohibition Hits North Dakota Prison Twine Works, Warden Says.

Warden Talbot of the North Dakota penitentiary told the senate committee in the investigation of charges of alleged attempts to fix state police that the anti-liquor laws of his state were so effectively enforced that he couldn't get enough convicts to run the prison twine works. He could keep only eighty workmen in the plant, he said, and had only 280 in the entire penitentiary.

These figures so interested members of the committee that they temporarily forsook the usual inquiry to interrogate Warden Talbot about the North Dakota anti-liquor law.

Daily Thought.

A man's own conscience is his sole tribunal and he should care no more for that phantom "opinion" than he should fear meeting a ghost if he crosses the churchyard at dark.—Lytton.

Some Queer Ones

The Limburger brothers of Oradell, N. J., have asked the courts to change their name to Revere.

Philadelphia's water wagon a little crowded since the mayor ordered 10,000 city employees on it.

A case of beer he didn't want sold by a man in Montclair, N. J., for $1, and he was fined $100 for it.

"You cut my hair and I'll cut yours" may soon be heard in England, as it has been decided barbers must fight.

Dog's picture instead of candidate's adorns placards in Sebastopol, Cal., reading, "Gyp announces that his boss is aspirant for re-election to the office of town clerk."

KAISER MAY SEND MORE RAIDERS OUT

Success of Moewe Encourages Plan to Prey on Shipping.

BLOCKADE NOT ESTABLISHED

Swedes Send Vessel After Vessel to German Ports Unmolested by England-Skipper Paid Bonus if They Get By—Go Through With Lights Out.

As a result of the success of the German raider Moewe in twice running the British blockade a score of other merchant cruisers. It is said, are about to be sent forth from German ports to seek fortune on the high seas. This information was received in Washington by an official close to the German embassy, who said:

"The important thing is not so much that the Moewe has done as what Germans may be expected to do from now on. Above all, the fact is established for all time that Great Britain's boast that she maintains a blockade of German ports is nothing but a fallacy."

"What the Moewe has done many other German ships will do."

"What the Moewe has done many other ships of other nationalities are doing all the time and have been for months past."

"All the 2500 British lines and the 10,000 British tonnage are still at sea. Twice as many ships as they can catch."

Swedes Run Blockade.

The line of blockade is from the northernmost point of Scotland straight across the North sea from point off the mouth of the Scheldt to the southernmost point of the North sea coast of Germany or from one of the Baltic ports.

"The Scandinavians for months have laughed at this blockade. There are supposed to be four lines of British ships to get through before a ship can reach the open sea. But time after time the ships of Swedish liners have slipped by all four lines and continued on their way without so much as a hail from a British man of war.

"The Swedish government has noted this. The Swedish skippers are actuated by offers of heavy bonuses if they do elude the blockading squadrons. It costs an appreciable sum for a ship to be tied up at Kirkwall for several days, and the bonus is gladly paid to those who make the delay unnecessary."

"Thus it is that night after night Swedish merchantmen slip through the blockade, all lights out and risking everything."

"The fact that the proportion of success of these Swedish merchantmen is two to one and the added fact that the Moewe could steam right through that blockading squadron without discovery must obviously result in but one conclusion."

Other Moewes to Come.

"There will be other Moewes, many of them. And they will come and go without let or hindrance—at least to the proportion of two out of three—and British shipping will suffer a blow that will make the toll already paid to U boats insignificant by comparison."

"But that is not all that the Moewe has shown the world. It has shown that there is nothing to prevent the execution of the outer seas of something more formidable than any transatlantic merchantman."

"What the plans of the admiralty to Berlin may be nobody on this side of the Atlantic can hope to know, but the success of the Moewe surely gives reasonable hopes that the next German raider the world may expect to hear from will be a ship of the German imperial navy."

"If a relatively slow, clumsy merchantman can make its way out of the North sea the chances are infinitely better for a battle cruiser doing so."

"One can imagine the depredations such a ship could work in the transit traffic line between New York and Liverpool. On the matter of armed merchantmen meeting blockading fleet with the ship, for a battle cruiser would have no occasion to complain of armament on merchantmen, defensive or otherwise."

"If a British merchantman sought to run counter to the battle cruiser by the use of such armament it is apparent that the cruiser would not object."

"The Moewe is back in her home port, and Germany and the whole world has learned a striking lesson of the oceaning of the so-called British blockade."

GERMAN OFFICERS WILL ASSIST BANDIT VILLA IN COMING CONFLICT

(By International News Service.)

EL PASO, March 17.—General Francisco Villa has on his staff four former officers of the German army who will help him plan his battles and suggest strategic movements for his troops. This information was turned in to the International News service by an American who formerly served in Villa's army.

According to the story, the bandit murderer is well supplied with ammunition and will be able to hold off the United States forces for years in the deserts and almost impassable fastnesses of the Mexican mountains.

It is understood the four German officers have been with him until they now rank in the highest class of men.

Wishes With Villa Delay U. S. Troops.

The reports that skirmishes with Villa bandits delaying Slocum's column which crossed at Columbus still remain unconfirmed, of the fact is believed to explain why the advance has penetrated only about half the distance expected. It is understood Colonel Slocum's column from Culbertson's ranch is making progress.

General Pershing is believed to have joined Colonel Dodd after instructing Colonel Slocum to proceed southward as fast as possible in order to reinforce Dodd in the event he comes in contact with Villa.

General Callos is posting men to guard the mountain passes in the Sonora in case the bandits attempt to escape that way. One report states Villa is nearing Chihuahua City. Another says he is pressing south toward Casas Grandes. A rigid censorship as to the actual and detailed movement of troops is still in force.

INTERMED GERMAN SHIPS ARE SEIZED BY BRAZIL

(By International News Service.)

LONDON, March 17.—Twenty-six German vessels ranging from 12,000 to 20,000 tons displacement have been seized by the Brazilian government, according to dispatches received here today from Liverpool.

The Teuton ships were merchantmen interned in Brazil since the outbreak of the war. Fourteen were at Rio de Janeiro and 12 others at Pernambuco.

Just what effect this will have upon international relations of the two countries is hard to say, but the seizure of German ships by Portugal caused a declaration of war.

ARMY TO BE INCREASED TO NEARLY 200,000

(By International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Under forced draft and "gag" rule congress today began to grind out the preparedness program of the administration. The house debate began with the Hay bill which provides for a standing army of 140,000 men and the federalization of the militia. The house will work night and day and it is hoped by the leaders to force the vote in two weeks.

Meantime the senate committee will put the finishing touches on the Chamberlain bill providing for a standard of 250,000. The senate is also expected to pass the measure in two weeks time. Then the two measures will be combined into one which will probably ultimately provide for an army of 175,000 to 200,000 soldiers.

MILLS TRANSFER COMPANY
BUYS NEW MOTOR TRUCK

H. H. Mills and W. J. Parsons went up to Jacksonville this morning by train to drive back from that city a new one-ton Indiana truck, to be used in the business of the Mills Transfer Company, including the Ormond express business. They expect to get back tonight or tomorrow morning. The new truck is similar to the one now in use by the company, but includes some improvements. Increasing business demanded the additional machine, which was ordered several weeks ago but has just reached Jacksonville.
